

SHARE is a humanitarian agency working in countries emerging from conflicts and civil strife. It's committed to promoting economic development and self-reliance, improving health and education, providing relief to disaster victims, internally displaced people and refugees, advancing human rights, and protecting the environment.

SHAREcircle has worked in the Bié and Kuando Kubango provinces of Angola since the beginning of 1999. What makes SHARE unique is its intimate connection with Angola and its extensive network of volunteers located both here in the US and in Angola.

ITEMS SHIPPED TO ANGOLA SINCE 1999:

- 700 metric tons of food, clothing, school kits and desks, computers, health kits, wheel chairs, medical equipment, sewing kits, seeds & farm tools, and bicycles.
